

Announcements Are Not Enough: Concrete Steps for Post-Pandemic Green Future

SDG KNOWLEDGE HUB

The graphic features a central circular ring composed of 17 colored segments, each representing a Sustainable Development Goal. The ring is surrounded by larger, semi-transparent colored shapes that radiate outwards, creating a sunburst effect. The colors include shades of green, blue, red, orange, yellow, and pink.

The IISD logo consists of a stylized blue and white circular icon to the left of the letters 'IISD' in a bold, blue, sans-serif font.

The pandemic has changed habits, ideas, and so much more. There is a palpable sense that the future will not be like the past, that we will speak of pre- and post-Coronavirus eras. Even the most spending-conscious governments have loosened the purse strings, devoting record sums to keep the economy, and people, afloat.
