Always a perfect fit.

Solutions for any situation.

Geberit shower toilets offer a great deal of scope for bathroom layout, thanks not only to the design of the products themselves but also to their connection technology. Geberit AquaClean complete solutions fit all Geberit installation and flushing systems. In renovated bathrooms, Geberit AquaClean can also be combined with the Geberit Monolith or with the Geberit AquaClean Design Panel.

↑ More freshness with every flush thanks to Geberit DuoFresh: an active carbon filter, integrated elegantly into the flush plate, plus a practical insert for in-cistern blocks.

↑ The innovative, touch-free Geberit Sigma80 flush plate can be operated easily and hygienically. A simple push of the hand is enough to activate the dual flush.

The new WC elements from Geberit are tailored to match the dimensions of the Geberit AquaClean products, ensuring that all connections fit perfectly. In combination with Geberit Duo Fresh, odours are extracted inside the ceramic pan itself.

The Geberit Monolith sanitary module for the WC is an attractive alternative to exposed or concealed cisterns. All the necessary installation technology including water inlets and outlets and the cistern itself are hidden beneath an elegant glass housing in white, black or umber. Matching Geberit Monolith sanitary modules for the wash-basin allow a coherent bathroom design to be created all from a single source.

The Geberit AquaClean Design Panel allows the connections for a shower toilet to be laid cleanly and elegantly without effecting the existing tilework. The slimline panel is fixed to the flat tile surface and can be removed at any time without leaving any traces.

"To compete with the best as a hotelier, having shower toilets is absolutely essential."

Ernst Rieser, Owner, Hotel Rieser Aktiv & Spa Resort

Sustainable products. For sustainable construction.

Geberit regularly scores top marks when it comes to sustainability, proving the importance that the company attaches to environmentally friendly production and products alike. During their development, all of its products are subject to ongoing optimisation in terms of environmental compatibility, the efficient use of resources and durability – throughout the entire life-cycle.

Complete shower toilet solutions made by Geberit have a positive environmental footprint and are comparable with conventional WCs and the use of toilet paper. Compared to the amount of paper consumed with a standard WC, the additional water consumption in the case of a shower toilet is immaterial. The manufacturing process for the toilet paper and the electricity required to heat the water, are highly significant. Additional energy savings can be realised through individual settings on Geberit AquaClean products, reducing environmental pollution even further.

BREEAM credits

As the leading and most widely used environmental assessment method for building, BREEAM (BRE Environmental Assessment Method) has fast become the measure of sustainability within the hotel world, giving designers and hoteliers alike the competitive edge within their field.

BREEAM looks at every aspect of a hotel building against a set of sustainable criteria and provides an overall score from Pass through to Outstanding. A key part of the assessment is water usage. Therefore, installing a Geberit AquaClean in conjunction with a Geberit low litre flushing concealed cistern will provide you with one of the quickest and easiest ways to achieve BREEAM second level credits. This coupled with the overall positive environmental impact of Geberit products means, your hotel will score highly for sustainability.
